The Indoor Football Facility project was estimated to cost approximately $13.9 million. The Master Plan for the Farmers Market had a projected completion date of August 2012.

III. Report of the President:

Chairman Loadholt called on President Pastides who made the following remarks:

I’m confident that October must be the busiest month on the academic calendar. Everybody is in high gear, exams are taking place; cultural and athletics events are being held daily it seems; high school student visits are in full force; and, for me, the pace of meetings continues uninterrupted.

The University seems to change day by day, far more quickly than the leaves on the Horseshoe that are beginning to show their fall tint. Importantly, I believe that the changes are overwhelmingly positive; and evidence of this abounds.

Within the last two weeks, we broke ground, so to speak, for the new Darla Moore School of Business on a very rainy Friday, September 23. The word “iconic” was used several times that day, but I would rather focus on the building’s impact on the continued prominence of the school rather than its appearance. As Churchill said, “architects shape our buildings; then (the buildings) shape us.”

That was two weeks ago to the day; then, two days ago, we cut the ribbon to celebrate a breathtaking renovation of Patterson Hall. I referred to it as the “Patty Shack” on that day. Remarks were offered by Georgia Littlejohn, a delightful freshman from Wilmington, NC, who is the President of the Patterson Hall Resident Government Association. Two other residents of Patterson are daughters of mothers who resided there in the 1980’s. And while the current residents probably aren’t listening to AC/DC and ZZ Top like their mothers did; I can assure you that they’re having every bit as much fun as their mothers did. It was a great day.
On the same day, our Student Government Association President presented the State of the Student Body Address. Joe, you were superb. President Joe Wright presented his administration’s priorities and pledged to cooperate with the university’s administration. It was a great day for leadership.

That same day, Governor Nikki Haley presented the Governor’s Awards for Excellence in Science. I’m proud to tell you that three of the six individuals honored at the State House were from Carolina.

USC Columbia Mathematics Professor Dr. Don Jordan, was recognized for his service as the assistant chair of the Governor’s Awards committee;
Carolina Distinguished Professor of Chemistry and Biochemistry James Sodetz of USC Columbia was recipient of the Governor’s Excellence in Scientific Research Award; and USC Sumter professor and chair of Chemistry and Physics James E. Privett received the Governor’s Award for Excellence in Scientific Awareness.

And, just three days ago, our USC School of Medicine in Greenville received, as you know, LCME preliminary accreditation. What a milestone that was! Even if nothing else had happened that day, October 4th will be marked in history at Carolina as the day we took a bold step forward in serving the health needs of South Carolina.

I wish to thank the Health Affairs Committee and the full Board of Trustees for their unwavering and stalwart support throughout this long process. We could not have done this without you. It was a great day for Education.

On a sad note, two weeks ago, we lost Carolyn Holderman, former first lady who served this university with distinction for 13 years. Her service to our community continued to be felt right until the end and, in fact, she attended our University Associates luncheon just ten days prior to her passing.

I also note the loss two days ago of Chef Jules Pernell, who served as chef and instructor at USC’s McCutchen House for the past 25 years. He taught up to 700 students a year enrolled in our hospitality courses and was known for his superb work with truffles and for his beautiful handlebar mustache. He will be missed.

Tom Hallman has decided to move on in his life. A search committee has been formed to identify the next Chancellor of USC Aiken; and I thank Trustee Cofield for agreeing to represent the Board of Trustees on this very important committee.

Tonight, our Women’s soccer team hosts Alabama. It is student night, with free pizza for students. The team will face number 22 Auburn in a televised game on Sunday.

Women’s Volleyball is 9-6 and faces LSU at home tonight. If you have never been that is one of the most exciting athletic events that you could possibly attend at Carolina.

Our equestrian team, as usual, is doing very well, they are 2-0, and will be facing Georgia at home on November the 4th. I would encourage you, if you have never been, to you to go to One Wood Farm when you can – it is a beautiful facility and Coach Boo Major and our student athletes would love to have your support.

Tomorrow, of course, we’ll host the Kentucky Wildcat’s Big Blue Machine at Williams Brice and although I would rather our football team were facing their impressive five basketball players on Saturday, that won’t happen. Last week, of course, many of us left Williams Brice disappointed. But for the bounce of the ball or the tick of the clock, we could have remained undefeated.

But here we are University of South Carolina; we’re not undefeated, but we’re most certainly undeterred. I hope great things await us. Whether our football team’s best day lies ahead remains to be seen but I’m confident that the university’s best days are ahead of us.

Thank you very much and I would be happy to answer any questions that you might have.
Chairman Loadholt stated that at this time in the meeting the Board would stand in recess for lunch.

Following lunch, Chairman Loadholt called the meeting back to order and stated that there were personnel matters regarding interviewing candidates for the position of Secretary of the University and of the Board of Trustees which were appropriate for discussion in Executive Session.

Chairman Loadholt called for a motion to enter Executive Session. Mr. Adams so moved and Warr seconded the motion. The vote was taken and the motion carried.

Chairman Loadholt invited the following persons to remain: President Pastides, Ms. Allen, Mr. Byrd, and Mr. Parham.
RETURN TO OPEN SESSION

The Board formally announced that the four finalist for the position of Secretary of the University and of the Board of Trustees are:

1) Brian Comer, a lawyer with Collins and Lacy and former student body president;
2) Charles D. Fitzsimons, director of capital budgets and financing at USC;
3) Dr. Cameron Howell, assistant vice president for higher education development at the National Student Clearinghouse in Herndon, Va.; and
4) Amy Stone, interim executive director of the Carolina Alumni Association.

Since there were no other matters, Chairman Loadholt declared the meeting adjourned at 4:40 p.m.

Thomas L. Stepp
Secretary
