D. Royall & Company – Student Marketing Programs

Chairman Loadholt called on Mr. Parham who said that the University Office of Undergraduate Admissions seeks Board approval of a contract with Royall & Company under which Royall will provide what is known as a Student Search Lead Generation and Student Search Rapid Response Fulfillment Program.

Each year, Mr. Parham said the University begins the process of identifying high school students that it wants to recruit. The Admissions Office identifies high school students with profiles and characteristics that we are interested in such as GPA, test scores, year of graduation, and geographic location. The University gets lists of those names from several sources (such as PSAT and SAT test takers). Admissions then provides these names in bulk to Royall that cleans up the lists, eliminates duplications, and develops a master list of up to 185,000 United States high school students and up to 6,000 international students who match our desired characteristics.

Once the prospective students have been identified, Mr. Parham said, Royall will undertake a comprehensive communication campaign that will result in multiple e-mail blasts and a regular U.S. Postal mailing to these students designed to introduce the prospective students to USC and encourage their interest in learning more about USC. The content and form of all of these communications are pre-approved by USC and are sent to the students as if they were being sent directly by USC. The goal of these multiple communications is to have the student opt-in – that is, to send a response card or online communication indicating an interest in learning more about USC.

Next, as to those students who respond Mr. Parham said, Royall continues to generate e-mail communications to the students and also mails a brochure approved by USC, currently titled the College Students Checklist, that provides more detailed information about USC. Follow-up emails are sent within one business day to students who reply online.

Royall has been performing this service for USC for the past three years. According to USC’s Admissions Director Scott Verzyl, said Mr. Parham, when USC Undergraduate Admissions handled its own student search campaign, USC received a response rate of 3% to 5%. Since Royall has taken over this responsibility, the response rate averages between 17% and 20%. An additional measure is the number of students who not only respond to the mass communications but who then go the next step and seek additional information about USC. Prior to Royall being involved, this inquiry pool was about 35,000 high school students each year. That number has now increased to more than 78,500 inquiries. Obviously, there are many factors that affect that increase in inquiries, Mr. Parham said, but Royall’s efforts certain is a significant factor.

Under the contract USC will pay Royall $311,668. Funding for this contract was approved by the Board as a permanent line item operating expense of the Admissions Office’s budget. Royall will begin work upon approval of the contract. The contract is for a one-year term.

Chairman Loadholt called for a motion for approval of the contract as described in the agenda materials and presented by Mr. Parham. Mr. Lister so moved. Mr. Warr seconded the motion. The vote was taken, and the motion carried.

E. Arts and Sciences – Quasi-Endowment

The interest income that is generated will be used to finance graduate fellowships, travel grants and other non-payroll expenses related to the Department of Chemistry and Biochemistry graduate education.

He also presented an overview of the information technology infrastructure that supports students, faculty, staff, and business operations at the University.
