IV. Report of the President

President Pastides recognized the beauty of the Aiken campus and thanked the Aiken administration for its hospitality, noting that investiture ceremonies would be held for Chancellor Sandra Jordan the following day. The President also recognized and thanked outgoing Student Government Association (SGA) President Kenny Tracy, who was attending his last meeting as the official student representative to the Board.

President Pastides announced that the incoming SGA President is Chase Mizzell, current vice president and an international business major originally from St. George now living at Folly Beach. Mr. Mizzell’s inauguration is scheduled for March 20. The new vice president is Ryan Bailey, political sciences major from North Charleston, and the new treasurer is Haley Guyton, a junior European studies and biology premed major from Greenville, S.C. The incoming Graduate Student Association President, who started serving in January, is Danielle Schoffman. She did her undergraduate work at Stanford and is a graduate student at the Arnold School of Public Health.

The President also recognized administrators present for their last Board meeting, Vice Presidents Michelle Dodenhoff and Luanne Lawrence. Both are responsible he said for much of the University’s recent progress. There would be no Carolina’s Promise, the University’s million dollar campaign, without Michelle Dodenhoff who is leaving to return to her native New Orleans for a senior position at the Ochsner Health System. He said whenever members of the University family think “No Limits” that they would recall Luanne Lawrence, Vice President for Communications, who is leaving for a senior position at the University of California Davis.

President Pastides assured the Board of his ongoing commitment to safety. He said he was shocked and saddened by the assault that recently affected the campus, noting that he has had meetings every day since that incident with all of the professionals on the campus. He reiterated that the Board has made available $1.8 million in new recurring money to USC Columbia’s Law Enforcement and Safety Division and that the administration is in the process of hiring 18 new officers, six of whom have recently joined the campus. In addition to increasing the number of officers, the University will continue to address safety through the use of technology, cameras, call boxes and anything else that could be done. He also noted the working relationship with the city to help create the required safe environment necessary for the Columbia campus, as well as all other campuses of the University. “There can be no excellence without safety,” he said. “I’ve met with many students and student groups in the past week or 10 days and have told them that I believe we do have safe campuses and safe communities. Our crime statistics are far below the statistics in the communities in which we live and of course far better than national averages. But, we won’t rest until we’re confident that we have, and will continue to do, every single thing possible.”

President Pastides provided a General Assembly update. He said the House Ways and Means Committee concluded its budget and that he was grateful for the work of Board members and staff like Shirley Mills, Trey Walker and many other people on budget issues. President Pastides said that at this point in the budget process, the University had received annualization of the $2.115 million for Palmetto College and new one-time funding of $2.5 million for the On Your Time Graduation initiative for which efforts would continue for obtaining recurring funding.

The Small Business Development Center received an increase of $300,000 in recurring funds and the University’s senior campuses received base budget adjustments of $1.7 million in new, recurring funds.
The full House will take up the budget debate beginning on March 12, with President Pastides presenting the University’s budget request to the Senate Finance Committee on April 2. “We have a long way to go, but we’re hopeful for ongoing and continuing positive conversations with the Senate and the House as well,” he said, noting that Governor Haley will hold a meeting of college presidents on March 19 to discuss accountability-based funding.

President Pastides concluded his remarks citing the following highlights from around the system:

- Junior Jeannelle Scheper became the first Gamecock female athlete to win an SEC high jump championship on the final day of the 2013 SEC Championships.
- Jadeveon Clowney will be on the cover of the March 4 issue of Sports Illustrated. The magazine will report that the online video of “The Hit” received more than four million aggregate views.
- Theatre Professor Robert Richmond is directing Shakespeare’s Henry VIII at the Folger Theatre in Washington, D.C. The production has been nominated for 10 Helen Hayes Awards, including one for Outstanding Director and one for Outstanding Resident Play.
- In Aiken, the Women’s Cross Country Team earned the 2012 All-Academic status from the United States Track & Field and Cross Country Coaches Association, and Keely Gillespie was selected for the 2012 All-Academic Women’s Cross Country Team.
- USC Beaufort was named Organization of the Year by the Hilton Head Island - Bluffton Chamber of Commerce.
- USC Upstate professor Julie Moss and Student Jane Montero have received Palmetto Gold recognitions from the South Carolina Nurses Foundation.
- Finally, Palmetto College is off and running under Chancellor Susan Elkins’ leadership.

Chairman Warr stated that this report was received as information.

V. Other Matters

A. BTRU 2.01 Honorary Degree Policy: Chairman Warr said that on November 16, 2011, the Academic Affairs and Faculty Liaison Committee approved the addition of the word “University” to Board of Trustees Policy, BTRU 2.01 Honorary Degree Recipients, under the heading of “Criteria.” With the addition, the sentence would read: “Recipients of honorary degrees are restricted to those persons outstanding in their contributions or service to the University, State of South Carolina, the nation or the international community, or in their profession or field of endeavor.”
The amendment of a Board policy requires action of the full Board. Therefore, Chairman Warr asked the full Board to vote on this amendment as a motion from the Academic Affairs and Faculty Liaison Committee based on its action of November 16, 2011. Mr. von Lehe seconded the motion. The vote was taken and the motion passed.

B. Change to the June Meeting Schedule: Chairman Warr stated that due to scheduling conflicts, it was necessary to combine the meetings scheduled for Friday, June 28, with those scheduled for Monday, June 17. He noted that the Board office would send a reminder to everyone about this calendar change and that it also would be included on the Board Portal.

Chairman Warr thanked Kenny Tracy, Michelle Dodenhoff and Luanne Lawrence and wished them well in their future endeavors. He called for any other matters to come before the Board.

Secretary Stone announced details for transportation of Board members to and from the Wilcox and a dinner being hosted that evening by the Aiken County Commission on Higher Education. She also provided details for attending Chancellor Jordan’s investiture the following morning.

Secretary Stone announced that Mr. Hubbard would participate as part of a national webinar on intercollegiate athletics sponsored by the Association of Governing Boards (AGB) on March 7 and also would join the same panel for a presentation in April at the AGB national meeting in San Francisco.

VI. Adjournment

Since there were no other matters to come before the Board, Chairman Warr declared the meeting adjourned at 4:35 p.m.

Respectfully submitted,

Amy E. Stone
Secretary
