I. Call to Order

Chairman Warr called the meeting to order and stated that notice of the meeting had been posted and the press notified as required by the Freedom of Information Act; the agenda and supporting materials had been circulated; and a quorum was present to conduct business.

Mr. Hickman stated that Lauren Shirley with the Daily Gamecock was in attendance. Chairman Warr invited The Reverend Frank Anderson, Lutheran Campus Ministry, to deliver the invocation.

Chairman Warr called on S.C. Air National Guard Major General Retired Jim Chow, M.D., for a special presentation in recognition of the University’s support of the military. Dr. Chow said that about three and a half years ago a program was started that had impacted the entire country. The story about this program began one day while he was at the Pentagon in the chow hall.

A young airman who was sharing his experience about Afghanistan said that the hard part wasn’t in Afghanistan, it was at the University. He was ordered to be activated November 2 to go to Afghanistan as a boomer, the refueler on the back of an aircraft carrier, which is a hard to fill position, and to report on December 1. As a good student, he went to his professor and told him that he was being activated. The professor trying to be helpful, offered to help him study and to give him his test early so he could finish the semester early. But with five other professors and the need to move out of campus housing and to tell his girlfriend and family goodbye before leaving, there wasn’t time. The professor told him that the rules were clear, withdrawing after a specific date would most likely result in him failing and that he was past the date of being able to obtain a refund on his tuition and housing fees.

After hearing this story, Dr. Chow contacted Dr. Amiridis and within the University’s existing framework, worked out the details that would allow a University student who is activated to go to war to have a refund of their tuition. The program also allows the unused portion of their fees for room and board to be refunded, and these students would receive a military withdrawal. When they returned, these students would receive preference for obtaining room and board and enrolling in the classes they need.

While this does not sound like much, Dr. Chow said, it means the world to these students who need to concentrate on what they need to do as a member of the military.

Using the example of the University of South Carolina, Dr. Chow approached other institutions of higher education in South Carolina to obtain support for similarly situated military students. These schools followed the University’s template and now the program has spread to the entire nation, he said, all because the University of South Carolina under the direction of its provost clearly spelled out the need for supporting young men and women in uniform. Dr. Chow thanked the Board and presented two framed flags to Provost Amiridis in recognition for all that is done on behalf of military students. The flags were flown in Iraq and Afghanistan during Operation Iraqi Freedom and Enduring Freedom.

Provost Amiridis accepted the presentation on behalf of the University, stating: “We do very little sitting in offices and making decisions. The people who are in Afghanistan and Iraq and on the front lines deserve everything that we can do to help them. Quite frankly, I accept this on behalf of the University because I just coordinated with many offices within the University. I am very proud of the program that we started.”

Chairman Warr next called for a motion to enter Executive Session for personnel matters. Mr. Fennell so moved and Mr. von Lehe seconded the motion. The vote was taken and the motion carried.

Chairman Warr invited the following persons to remain: President Pastides, Secretary Stone, the President’s Executive Council, Ms. Doran, Ms. Richardson, and Dr. Knapp.

Since everyone was present for the Intercollegiate Athletics Committee meeting earlier in the day, Mr. Buyck indicated he would make an abbreviated report. In the meeting earlier in the day, Athletics Director Ray Tanner presented the numerous academic successes of student-athletes. Most notable was the achievement of 1st place on the Fall SEC Academic Honor Roll for the 9th straight year.
In the competition arena, Mr. Tanner cited records set by the football team, which included four straight Bowl wins, 40 home wins in four seasons, and a 36-6 win record at Williams-Brice since 2009. Mr. Tanner also announced that the University was one of only two schools in the NCAA where both Men’s and Women’s Basketball averaged 10,000 or more fans in attendance per game. He said that Gamecock Fans were the best!

Following Mr. Tanner’s report, the committee heard from President Pastides on recent action regarding governance reform and autonomy legislation at the National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA).

C. Executive Committee
(The Honorable Eugene P. Warr, Jr. reported)

During this morning’s meeting of the Executive Committee, the Mid-Year Financial Review was presented, along with a Barclays Capital Debt Update. The information in these reports also was made available for review by all Trustees on the Board Portal.

The Executive Committee also approved a three-year enterprise licensing agreement valued at $516,248.58 with Adobe Systems, Inc. for Adobe Acrobat Professional and Adobe’s Creative Cloud of creative desktop apps and services, collaboration, license management tools, and enterprise-level support. The committee also approved a five-year lease of 7,677 square feet of space on the first floor of 800 Huger Street for the College of Social Works’ Center for Child and Family Studies. The annual cost of the lease is $99,900 and includes utilities, janitorial services, building and ground maintenance and repairs.

The Executive Committee approved eight items for recommendation to the full Board for action. These were:

1. Legal Agreements
   a. U.S. Department of Justice Agreement

   On behalf of the Executive Committee, Mr. Warr moved approval of an agreement to rescind Addendum H to the Operating Agreement between the U.S. Department of Justice (DOJ) and the University that provided for the renovation of the Close-Hipp Building and exclusive occupancy and use of the building by DOJ. The agreement recognizes that the original need of DOJ for the Close-Hipp Building changed due to circumstances that could not have been anticipated and that the University now has a need to retain the building. Under the agreement, the University will receive $31.5 million as the reasonable net present value of the lost cash flow resulting from the rescission of Addendum H.
b. Baseball Stadium Repair Agreement

Chairman Warr called on Mr. Parham to read a motion on behalf of the Executive Committee for approval of an agreement related to the Baseball Stadium repair. Mr. Parham said the motion was to approve the University settlement of the claims against eight companies related to the repairs of the Carolina Stadium as outlined in the handout presented to the Board of Trustees earlier in the day.

3. State Institution Bond Refunding

On Behalf of the Executive Committee, Mr. Warr moved approval of a resolution to issue State Institution Refunding Bonds for $37 million to be used to refund outstanding Series 2006B State Institutions Bonds, which are projected to result in substantial debt service savings. The complete resolution and supporting material as prepared by the Pope Zeigler law firm was made available on the Board Portal for Trustees to review.

Mr. Cofield seconded the motion. The vote was taken and the motion passed.

4. Contracts

a. USC Beaufort/Hilton Head Island MOU

On Behalf of the Executive Committee, Mr. Warr moved approval of a Memorandum of Understanding (MOU) between USC Beaufort (USCB) and the Town of Hilton Head Island (Town) to develop a multi-phase Master Plan for which the Town commits to providing funding not to exceed $22 million. The MOU further stipulates that Phase I of the Master Plan will result in construction of a Hospitality Management Building; that USCB will provide $2.5 million funded by the local higher education commission to Phase I of the Master Plan; and that USCB will operate and maintain all facilities constructed under the Master Plan for higher education and adult education services.

Mr. Westbrook seconded the motion. The vote was taken and the motion passed.
b. Wiley Subscription Services, Inc.

On Behalf of the Executive Committee, Mr. Warr moved approval of an agreement between the University and Shorelight Education, LLC and Shorelight-Palmetto, LLC to create an International Accelerator Program to attract and retain international students. Under this agreement AP provides course design, development consultation, and administrative support services for an expansion of designated University undergraduate and graduate online course offerings. The amendment, a copy of which was provided Trustees to review, establishes the AP Credit Hour Fee as 40 percent of the revenue that the University derives from tuition charged for undergraduate and graduate courses identified by the University and for which AP provides services as specified under its agreement with the University.

Ms. Buyck seconded the motion. The vote was taken and the motion passed.

III. Report of the Alumni Association

Chairman Warr indicated that Alumni Association President would present her report at the next meeting of the Board of Trustees.

IV. Report of the President

Chairman Warr call on President Pastides who noted that on February 5 the University endured a crisis that was unanticipated, but the University was prepared and learned from the experience. First and foremost, he said, the University learned that it was a “loving, caring and resilient community, starting with the Arnold School of Public Health and fanning out to each and every unit and corner of the University.”

President Pastides thanked Law Enforcement and Safety, which he described as “extraordinarily responsive,” along with the Columbia Police Department and the State Law Enforcement Division. He said that the University knows its emergency notification system works, but that every single thing that happened would be reviewed, as well as every single response, to use those lessons if ever needed in the future.

Spring semester was in full swing he said, with spring break fast approaching much to the delight of students. He also noted that University representatives met with the House Ways and Means Committee on January 7, and would meet with the Senate Finance Committee on March 18. Between these important dates, the University held a successful Carolina Day at the Statehouse on February 4 – a day for all of the University’s campuses to shine, to rise and be heard.

President Pastides noted that Student Government elections had been taking place and would continue next week. There would be ample opportunity to thank Lindsay Richardson who was not yet done with her service as President of Student Government. On March 18, he said, the inauguration of the new Student Government President would be held – either Jonathan Holt or Jonathan Kaufman, depending on the following week’s runoff.

He reminded everyone of the upcoming groundbreaking for the University’s new Engineering Innovation Center at the corner of Blossom and Assembly Streets. The center will include space for USC engineers and for the IBM Center for Applied Innovation. President Pastides also noted that the ability to return the Close-Hipp building into use for the University’s core mission, teaching and learning, was an unanticipated and extremely happy event. It would allow the University to take care of its most precious commodity, its students.

V. Other Matters

Chairman Warr noted that in light of the tragic events of February 5, Mr. Buyck had asked the following resolution be prepared. He asked Secretary Stone to read the resolution.
BOARD OF TRUSTEES
Resolution

WHEREAS, Raja Fayad, M.D. served as an associate professor of applied physiology and graduate director at the University's Arnold School of Public Health;

WHEREAS, he distinguished himself as an excellent teacher and researcher in the Department of Exercise Science from 2008 until his tragic death;

WHEREAS, he dedicated his life's work to teaching and cancer research and was an active citizen of the University community who was highly respected by his colleagues in South Carolina and around the country;

THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that the Board of Trustees of the University of South Carolina hereby express its condolences and heartfelt sympathy to the family and friends, students and colleagues of Dr. Fayad; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that a copy of this resolution be included in the minutes of the Board of Trustees and presented to Dr. Fayad's family in remembrance of his death on February 5, 2015.

PRESENTED THIS 20TH DAY OF FEBRUARY 2015
AT COLUMBIA, SOUTH CAROLINA

Mr. Buyck moved approval of the resolution. Mr. Fennell seconded the motion. The vote was taken and the motion passed.

Chairman Warr then called on Dr. Floyd who had a matter that he wanted to discuss.

Dr. Floyd said that over the years, there had been a struggle to establish a home for Greek Life on the Columbia campus and that many Trustees had worked together to obtain a Greek Village. However, things were happening now that placed the Greek Village and all that had been accomplished in jeopardy.

“The hazing that is occurring in University fraternities is absolutely absurd,” Dr. Floyd said. Hazing goes beyond the common definitions, he said, recommending that Trustees pass a resolution to put an absolute stop to hazing of any kind. He asked for a set of penalties for any chapter or individual caught condoning hazing of any kind.

Dr. Pruitt thanked Dr. Floyd for expressing his concern and bringing up what was a national issue. Hazing has become part of college culture, he said, noting that 55 percent of the students who come to college say that they participated in an organization (not just Greek groups) where hazing was present. In the past 10 years, 60 students have died across the country as a result of fraternity hazing. There has been almost $70 million in insurance settlements paid in the past 10 years related to fraternity hazing. This is a national problem.

At the University, Dr. Pruitt said four fraternities had been suspended for hazing and other inappropriate activities. It was not just a matter of educating. It was not just a matter of enforcing. It was a matter of changing the culture. A strong statement by the Board of Trustees would be delivered to students and to prospective students and would have a wonderful effect on the University’s ability to address this culture, he said. President Pastides already had requested a presentation on this issue and indicated a willingness to consider eliminating pledging, so that students would become a member of a fraternity when selected. Bonding and loyalty would evolve through community service projects and other positive activities.

“A strong statement by the Board of Trustees would help the three-year effort to try and address this issue,” Dr. Pruitt said. Dr. Floyd expressed his concern that there is more to hazing than the physical connotation that many associate with the term. Dr. Pruitt explained that the University had identified 11 “touch points” with students in its effort to educate them about the various aspects of hazing, many of which are psychological, including intimidation, mental stress and fear, as well as activities that involve humiliation, embarrassment and servitude. He outlined the various opportunities the University uses to education students about hazing.

Ms. Richardson thanked the Board for addressing an issue that students see on campus whether or not they are affiliated with a Greek organization. She said that when hazing can risk someone’s life, punitive measures are needed. She said a multifaceted approach is needed that obligates all students, not just those involved in Greek life, to report hazing incidents.

Mr. von Lehe indicated support of a resolution, as did Mr. Jones who said it should be broad enough to include bullying. Mr. Mobley said the Board needed to be proactive. Chairman Warr said that a proposed resolution had been prepared, pending the Board’s discussion on the issue. Board members agreed that a broad definition of the term hazing be included in a resolution. Mr. Hubbard summarized that the take away from the discussion was that if the University wanted to step up enforcement, it would have Board support.

Chairman Warr said a resolution would be brought back to the Board stating that hazing had to be stopped and that the University’s policy against hazing must be enforced. The term hazing also must be fully understood and defined in such a resolution. President Pastides said he was worried about delaying Board action on the topic. After additional discussion, the following resolution was proposed:

WHEREAS the Board of Trustees is deeply troubled by the instances of hazing (any ritual or activity involving harassment, abuse or humiliation of any kind) occurring on college and university campuses across the United States and the risks of emotional and physical harm to students that may result;
BE IT RESOLVED that the Board of Trustees reaffirms that hazing – as defined by state law and University policy – is a dangerous and reckless activity inconsistent with the Carolinian Creed and the values and campus community standards of the University of South Carolina; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Board of Trustees fully supports the University’s continuing efforts to protect its students by eliminating hazing and holding accountable those individuals who engage in such deplorable behavior.

Chairman Warr asked for a motion to approve the resolution. Mr. Hubbard so moved and Mr. Buyck seconded the motion. The vote was taken and the motion passed.

Dr. Floyd noted that he supported President Pastides’ suggestion of a no pledge season and that the feasibility of such a concept should be pursued.

On another matter, Ms. Moody requested a matrix listing the various local higher education commissions and the nature of their affiliation with University campuses. Ms. Brunelli said she would get the matrix to Trustees.

Chairman Warr then announced “today is Michael Amiridis’ last meeting with us.” Chairman Warr continued with his recognition of Provost Amiridis, noting some of the accomplishments during his 21 years with the University. “He has meant a lot to us and I want all of us to be aware of what he has done.”

Dr. Amiridis came to the University in 1994 as an assistant professor in the Department of Chemical Engineering. He was promoted to associate professor and earned tenure in 1999; was appointed department chairman in 2002 and promoted to full professor in 2003. He became dean of the College of Engineering and Computing in 2006. In 2009 he was appointed Executive Vice President for Academic Affairs and Provost.

During his 20 plus years with Carolina, he has been recognized with the University's highest undergraduate and graduate teaching awards, as well as awards for integrating undergraduate teaching and research, and the College of Engineering’s Research Achievement Award. In 2012 he was elected a fellow of the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

Dr. Amiridis has secured $18 million in external funding for projects on which he served as principal investigator while supervising the completion of 23 doctoral theses and publishing 98 peer-reviewed articles (23 of which were published during his tenure as provost), and presenting 180 seminars and papers at national and international meetings.

As Provost, Dr. Amiridis has led the efforts for an unprecedented growth in student enrollment, accompanied by a significant improvement in the quality of the undergraduate class. He also initiated the most ambitious faculty hiring program in the University’s history, securing the funds to create 200 net new tenure/tenure track positions in a four-year period. He also documented the University’s academic progress by designing an academic dashboard in the spirit of transparency and accountability.

Under Dr. Amiridis' leadership, a number of University initiatives have been implemented, including Palmetto College, Carolina Core, USC Connect, On Your Time, Global Carolina, as well as the Community Engagement Office and the Presidential Doctoral and Provost Teaching Fellows programs for doctoral students. He also negotiated the creation of a new Medical School in Greenville and the integration of the clinical practice of the historic Medical School in Columbia with Palmetto Health.

Even though he is leaving us now, what he has done is going to continue to have great impact. We owe you a great debt of gratitude and we will remember you always. We really will miss you because we like you so much; you are such a good guy on top of all the things that you have done. Everyone here will watch you and where you are going. Where you’re going has no football program, which means you will have to come back and pull for the Gamecocks. Thank you for everything that you have done.

Provost Amiridis thanked the institution for the support that he had been shown during his 21 years at the University. He told the Board that the institution was the people – the faculty, the staff, the students, the Board, the alumni – all of whom had shown him support. He said he hoped his daughter would decide to stay in Columbia and enroll in USC, which would give him the opportunity to come and visit frequently. He concluded that “I wish every success to the institution because I really love the University of South Carolina.”

VI. Adjournment

Since there were no other matters to come before the Board, Chairman Warr declared the meeting adjourned at 5:17 p.m.

Respectfully submitted,

Amy E. Stone
Secretary
