Capital Project Funds. The University hereby declares its official intent, pursuant to Federal Regulations, to reimburse itself from the amounts of proceeds of the tax-exempt bond issue. The vote was taken and the motion passed, with Mr. Cofield voting against the motion.

   a. Swearingen Café Renovation

   On behalf of the Buildings and Grounds Committee, Mr. Hubbard moved to establish and fully fund this project with a budget of $450,000 to be funded with Institutional Funds. The University hereby declares its official intent, pursuant to Federal Regulations, to reimburse itself from the amounts of proceeds of the tax-exempt bond issue. The vote was taken and the motion passed.

   b. Historic Markers for the Horseshoe

   On behalf of the Buildings and Grounds Committee, Mr. Hubbard moved to create two historic markers with the text as discussed in the Buildings and Grounds Committee meeting earlier in the day (printed below). The vote was taken and the motion passed.

   Slavery and the South Carolina College

   The Horseshoe, the original campus of the University of South Carolina (established in 1801 as South Carolina College), still appears much as it did in the mid-1800s. Its buildings and historic wall were substantially constructed by slave labor and built of slave-made brick. Enslaved workers were essential to the daily operations of the college, whether they were owned by the faculty or the college itself, or hired from private citizens. Enslaved people lived in outbuildings, one of which still stands behind the President’s House. The University of South Carolina recognizes the vital contributions made by enslaved people.

   Slave Quarters

   This last remaining kitchen and slave quarters on campus stands as a tangible link to the enslaved people who lived and worked here. South Carolina College, forerunner to the modern university, owned a number of slaves and hired countless others between 1801 and 1865. Enslaved people made significant contributions to the construction and maintenance of college buildings and to daily life on campus. Despite limited references to individuals, enslaved workers who appear by name in archival records include Abraham, Amanda, Anna, Anthony, Charles, Henry, Jack, Jim, Joe, Lucy, Mal, Peter, Sancho and his wife, Simon, Toby, and Tom. Naming these individuals is an effort to remember all of those who made significant and substantial contributions to the University of South Carolina.

   c. New Student Health Center Naming

   On behalf of the Buildings and Grounds Committee, Mr. Hubbard moved to name the newly constructed student health services facility, until an appropriate donor comes forward, the “Center for Health and Well-Being.” The vote was taken and the motion passed.

3. Gift Naming Opportunities

On behalf of the Buildings and Grounds Committee, Mr. Hubbard moved to approve the following gift namings as recommended by the Gift Naming Opportunities Committee and distributed in the Board materials. The vote was taken and the following namings were approved.

a. Alumni Association
   – Rose Truesdale Wilkins Conference Room
b. Athletics
   i. C. Dan Adams Lobby (Anonymous)
   ii. Darby Court
   iii. The Robert and Janice McNair Football Practice Complex
   iv. Dottie Owen Gate
c. School of Law
   – The Senator Edward Eli Saleeby Sr. Classroom/Jury Room (Amendment)
d. University Libraries
   i. John Sherwood Davis, Jr. Scanning Center
   ii. Lt. Colonel James H. Davis Film Vault

D. Student–Trustee Liaison Committee, April 21, 2017
   (The Honorable A.C. “Bubba” Fennell reported)

Mr. Fennell said the Student-Trustee Liaison Committee met earlier in the day with student leaders from Palmetto College campuses. Four student leaders and two recent graduates joined Trustees at the board table, while other Student Government officers and advisors observed from the gallery.

In advance of the meeting, student leaders and advisors were asked to submit topics for the panel discussion and the committee appreciated the overwhelming response to its request. Discussion topics included the online student experience and the experience of students at the University’s two-year campuses. The students also discussed with committee members what they learned about leadership through their Student Government experience.

One student described his journey from earning an associate’s degree with Leadership Distinction from USC Salkehatchie to earning his bachelor’s degree in Nursing at USC Columbia.

In addition, Mr. Fennell said, two online students who graduated in December 2016 shared how Palmetto College helped them achieve their goal of earning a bachelor’s degree.

V. Report of the Alumni Association

Chairman von Lehe called on Mr. Preston who said he would be brief given the time of day, but that he would work with Secretary Heath to reserve time in the future during which a more robust briefing could be provided.

With the alumni center finished, he said, attention was being directed to building a 21st century alumni association. The association’s current strategic plan allows it to better serve students on campus and add more value for alumni in terms of engagement, while helping to continue building the brand of the University and My Carolina Alumni Association. In a future meeting, Trustees would be provided a more detailed briefing on the work underway by the Alumni Association.

Mr. Preston thanked the Board for its approval of the ring agreement, noting that the ring ceremony had become a major tradition of the University with increasing growth over the past few years.

On the advocacy and communications front, alumni around the country are becoming more engaged. There is much interest in the Carolina Action Network throughout the course of the year, he said, and the association will continue to mobilize alumni around the country and world to support the University.

In his next report, Trustee Floyd asked Mr. Preston to include a financial update on how the Alumni Association was doing since moving into its new facility, including the level of use being made of the new facility. Mr. Preston provided Trustees a monthly report on Alumni Association activities and invited them to attend upcoming events being hosted in Columbia and Charleston.

Chairman von Lehe thanked Mr. Preston, indicating his report would be received as information.

VI. Report of the Outgoing Student Government President Michael Parks

Chairman von Lehe called on Mr. Parks for his report as outgoing Student Government President. Mr. Parks said:

Student Government at the University of South Carolina represents the voice of all students – 33,000 strong on the Columbia campus alone. It is our duty to promote and foster involvement in the Carolina community, advocate greater understanding and collaboration with faculty and administration, and encourage responsible citizenship within a globally diverse and independent society. This is our mission and has been our mission for the last 109 years of existence. So, although I’ve been in permanent retirement for the last month, I would like to briefly highlight the three encompassing missions of the 2016-2017 Student Government Term.

First and foremost was civic engagement. The “Lead the Way” voter registration campaign, a quasi-Student Government entity, registered 4,400 students on our campus – the second most for any four-year institution in the country. The “It’s on Us” campaign about sexual assault awareness and prevention was a major pillar of our term this past year. The Higher Education Report and Honor Roll, which we produced for the first time this year, was a vehicle to celebrate and recognize legislators at the State House who are champions of higher education and try to give our students ‘a little skin’ in the game in that process.

Secondly, we sought to enhance the student experience. A large scale homecoming concert and pep rally, that we hope will become a tradition, brought over 8,000 students to celebrate our homecoming traditions and to enjoy fellowship with one another. On the veteran issues front, we made sure that our veteran students who live unconventional college lives – they are married, live off campus – have early registration to make sure their needs are met.

Finally, advocacy for student space was at the forefront for us this year, realizing this is a ‘kick the can down the lane’ effort. It was great engaging Mr. Hubbard and Dr. Smith and many other members of this Board to come on campus, to look at space, and to see the programmatic needs our student body faces. The fact is that hundreds and hundreds of student organization requests for space are not able to be met each and every year because we don’t have the space.

There has never been a greater honor, responsibility or privilege in my life than to serve as a student representative on this Board and the president of my peers. My gratitude is bottomless and I can only hope that I’ve had a fraction of the impact on this community that it truly has had on mine. It has been a pleasure and privilege to get to know each and every one of you. In the last couple of weeks, I’ve been filled with nostalgia and thousands of my peers feel the same way; knowing that in two weeks from today I’m graduating. But what I want to say is it speaks volumes to the atmosphere and the climate this Board and this administration has fostered on our campus that students don’t want to graduate at the end of four years. These four years are just fun and it is more than just an education – it is an experience. I just want to say kudos to this Board. The historic and profound impact of this institution, this state’s flagship university, must go forever forward. I am very delighted to have had the opportunity to contribute to the governing board that continues to propel the best university in this state forward each and every day. Thank you.
On completion of Mr. Parks’ report, Chairman von Lehe asked him to remain at the lectern to be recognized for his service. Wishing him the best in his future endeavors, Chairman von Lehe and President Pastides presented Mr. Parks with a framed certificate that was read aloud by Secretary Heath:

“Presented to Michael Parks by the Board of Trustees of the University of South Carolina in appreciation for outstanding contributions and service to the University. March 2016 to March 2017.

Signed Harris Pastides, President; John C. von Lehe, Jr., Chairman of the Board of Trustees; and J. Cantey Heath, Jr., Secretary of the Board of Trustees.

VII. Report of the President

Chairman von Lehe called on President Pastides who said he would also abbreviate his report. He told Trustees that in one week the commencement march would begin, with 13 ceremonies on eight campuses. The University would confer 8,604 degrees across those 13 ceremonies, with 6,939 degrees to be conferred in three ceremonies in Columbia on May 5 and May 6.

VIII. Other Matters

Chairman von Lehe called for any other matters to come before the Board. There being none, he said there was a need for an Executive Session to discuss a personnel matter, proposed contractual matters related to integrated communications management and insurance coverage, and for the receipt of legal advice.

Mr. Mobley made the motion, which was seconded by Mr. Loadholt. The vote was taken and the motion passed.

Chairman von Lehe said no action would result from the Executive Session and the meeting would adjourn at the conclusion of the Executive Session discussion. The following persons were invited to remain: Dr. Pastides, Secretary Heath, Mr. Seaton, Mr. Lordo, members of the President’s Executive Council, Ms. Doran, Mr. Huggins, Mr. Claypool, Mrs. Bethea and Mr. Bussell.
