Engage in the Process

August 4, 2011

Last year USC students submitted 201 applications for national fellowships and won $1,389,135. Make this YOUR YEAR!

Want an orientation to National Fellowships?

Tues, Aug 16, 11 am, Honors Residence Hall Classroom B110

Become acquainted with the wide range of fellowships to complement your academic experience. USC student award winners will share how a national fellowship has stimulated their learning and furthered their career planning. Tell your friends!!!

Want to get Workshops for National Fellowships on your August calendar?

Present at most workshops are faculty experts who will explain how these awards can extend your learning – in the classroom, lab, or residence hall, during the summer or the academic year. Student winners will talk about the strategies they have used and the benefits these awards have brought them.

The August workshops are:

Mon, August 22, Gressette Room, Harper College, 3:30 pm

FULBRIGHT GRANT

Dr. Jeff Persels and Fulbright winners will share information on this award, available to graduating seniors and graduate students who articulate a clear program involving study, research or teaching English to be carried out in a particular international academic setting for one year. Fluency in the host language is preferred, an appreciation for cross-cultural exchange, and a strong background in American culture and current events of the host country are critical. USC Application Deadline: September 7, 2011.

Tues, August 30, Room 322 Legare College, 3:30 pm

JAVITS SCHOLARSHIP and JACK KENT COOKE GRADUATE ARTS AWARD

Jan Smoak will review these two scholarships. The Javits provides up to $43,700 to students of superior academic ability who will pursue doctoral or master of Fine Arts (MFA) degrees in selected fields of the arts, humanities, and social sciences. Application Deadline: late September 2011. The Cooke provides up to $50,000 to students or recent alumni with exceptional artistic or creative promise and significant financial need to pursue graduate study in the US or abroad. USC Nomination Deadline: December 8, 2011.

Want to ensure you don't miss upcoming deadlines?
