FACULTY SALARY EQUITY COMMITTEE

Purpose Statement: The Faculty Salary Equity Committee was created in 1996 to be advisory to the Provost regarding matters of salary equity for faculty, and in 2005 the scope was extended to librarians. On an annual basis the Office of Institutional Assessment and Compliance performs a statistical analysis. The Committee uses the results of the analysis to identify faculty including librarians whose salaries appear to be below those expected for individuals of similar rank, discipline, time in service and other characteristics. Respective deans are then asked to explain these cases. The Committee then submits a report to the Provost who in turn reports to the faculty of the University summarizing the findings.

Membership Requirement: The Committee consists of six members; three are administrators selected by the President, and three are faculty members selected by the Provost from recommendations of the Faculty Advisory and Faculty Welfare Committees.

INSTITUTIONAL ANIMAL CARE AND USE COMMITTEE

Purpose Statement: In 1985, Congress passed the Health Research Extension Act (Public Law 99-158). The law directed the Secretary of Health and Human Services, working through the Director of the National Health Institute, to create guidelines for the care of animals used in research and teaching. The creation of an IACUC is one of the requirements set forth by these guidelines. The IACUC is charged with the review of the care and use of all vertebrate animals in research and teaching, submission of reports to the appropriate governing body, review and inspection of animal care facilities and programs, and review of concerns involving the care and use of animals at the University of South Carolina

Membership Requirement: Members are appointed by the President of the University. The committee shall consist of no less than five members and shall include at least: (a) one Doctor of Veterinary Medicine; (b) one practicing scientist; (c) one member whose primary concerns are in a nonscientific area; (d) one individual who is not affiliated with the University in any way other than membership in the committee and whose interest represent those of the general community. The remainder of the IACUC represents the Departments on the University Campus that utilize vertebrate animals. Graduate student members are nominated by the chair and appointed by the President.

INSTITUTIONAL BIOSAFETY COMMITTEE

Purpose Statement: The mission of the Institutional Biosafety Committee (IBC) is to review and approve all University of South Carolina research and teaching activities involving the use of biohazardous materials, and to advise the University of policies, procedures and practices that guide researchers in the proper use of biohazardous materials. Biohazardous materials are defined as recombinant DNA molecules, infectious agents/microorganisms, materials derived from human and non-human primates, or biological toxins. Through its reviews, the IBC seeks to ensure that activities involving such materials are in compliance with applicable University policies, external regulations, and meet standards of good practices consistent with safety of personnel and the general public in ways that best facilitate relevant research or teaching activities of the University.

Membership Requirement: The IBC must be composed of no fewer than five members who collectively have broad experience and expertise in biosafety issues. At least two of the IBC members are selected to represent the interests of the local community, and must not be affiliated with USC other than service on the Committee. One member must be identified as the Chair of the IBC, and one person must be identified as the Biosafety Officer (BSO) if work is conducted at the University at the biosafety Level 3 or above. Collectively, the IBC must have expertise regarding the biological agents and areas of research pertinent to USC. The IBC will generally have at least one person with acknowledged expertise in each of the following areas: recombinant DNA technology and associated risks, plant, plant pathogen, or plant pest containment principles, and animal pathogens and infectious disease management and containment principles.
