- ❖ USC User ID can be found at VIP under “Technology”, clicking on “Network Access”, and then clicking on “Network User Name.”

First Screen: Proposal Management

The screenshot shows the 'Proposal Management Screen' with a 'Start New Proposal | Logout' link in the top right. Below the header is a 'Proposal Approvals' section with a 'View All' dropdown menu. A red arrow points to this section. Below the dropdown is a paragraph explaining the 'Quick Approve' feature. A table follows with columns for Course, Curriculum, Term, Status, and Manage. Two proposals are listed: ANTH 161 and ARMY 522. A 'Submit' button is located below the table. Below the table is a 'Proposals Created by Me' section with a 'Start New Proposal' link and a message stating 'There are currently no proposals created by this account.' A red arrow points to this section.

Carolina Core Specialty Team Chairs

- ❖ The screen has two sections: “Proposal Approvals”, and “Proposals Created by Me”.
- ❖ The proposals waiting for your approval will be in the top section, “Proposal Approvals”.
- ❖ If you also are the creator of your own Core course proposal(s), these will be listed under “Proposals Created by Me”.
- ❖ Items on the “Proposal Approvals” list are no longer editable by the original proponent.

Navigating Approvals

❖ Reviewing and Approving a Proposal

- After logging on to <http://www.sc.edu/programproposal>, you can access a copy of any proposal's full Form Summary to review by clicking on the red course number on the left, or the document icon to the right.
- You may approve/acknowledge a proposal in one of two ways: from “Form Summary” page or from Proposal Management Screen
- Approving from the Form Summary Page
 - On the Form Summary page, you will see a list of all previous approvals with date and status at the bottom of the Form Summary.
 - You will also see three checkboxes (“Recommend: Approve and Forward”, “Recommend: Reject”, or “Recommend: Full Carolina Core Committee Review”), plus a “Comments” text box and a “Submit” button at bottom of Form Summary.

Proposal Approvals

View All

"Quick Approve" moves the proposal forward without comments. If you wish to add comments before forwarding, or to recommend rejection or full Carolina Core Committee review, click the document icon or the red course title to open the proposal, and scroll to the bottom.

Course	Curriculum	Term	Status	Manage
ANTH 161 Proposed by: Kenneth Kelly College of Arts and Sciences	Course	Fall 2012	Received by Faculty Senate; Forwarded to Carolina Core Specialty Team 1 on Oct 27, 2011 3:08 PM	Quick Approve <input type="checkbox"/>
ARMY 522 Proposed by: Eric Patterson College of Arts and Sciences	Course	Fall 2012	Approved by Full Faculty Senate; Forwarded to Registrar for addition to catalog on Oct 28, 2011 8:11 AM	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>

- Click the 'Quick Approve' checkbox in the far right column. (Please note that approving this way does not allow the inclusion of comments.)
 - Once you have selected Quick Approve, click Submit. You should receive a green message once it is successfully submitted. The status should also be updated.
- ❖ Once any approver has clicked “Quick Approval” or “Submit” buttons, approval privileges are terminated for that approver for that proposal. Therefore, once you have responded to a proposal, you will see the “Quick Approval” check box on the “Proposal Management” screen is faded out. The proposal summary is still viewable by clicking the document icon in the right column, or the red course number on the left side of the screen. Either will open a read-only version of the proposal Form Summary with the list of prior approvals.

OTHER IMPORTANT NOTES

Approval and Editing Rights to Active Proposals

Individuals have different rights to each course proposal depending on their role in the approval process.

- ❖ “Approval only” rights: Academic Unit Chairs, Carolina Core Specialty Team Chairs, Faculty Senate Curriculum Committee Chair, USC Undergraduate Dean, Registrar
 - They can read proposals and can insert comments which convey to the next approver

- ❖ “Approval and editing” rights: College/School representatives, Faculty Senate Officer
 - They acknowledge initial receipt of proposals (date posted in “Status” on Program Management screen and in “Approvals” section of proposal Form Summary)
 - They may insert comments
 - They may touch proposals several times before final approval (if proposals are rejected by a subsequent approver; or if proposals involve multiple colleges)
 - With approval from prior approvers, they may edit proposals to expedite processing.

- ❖ “Reviewing” rights: Committee members (College-level Curriculum Committees, Carolina Core Specialty Teams, Full Carolina Core Committee, Faculty Senate Courses and Curriculum Committee, Faculty Senators).
 - They can review or check the status of proposals at the Committee Review Site once they've been received at the college/school level.

Attachments and Supporting Documentation

- ❖ Support documentation, including letters of concurrence, is embedded within the electronic form, to streamline approvals by numerous committees and administrators.
- ❖ Documents should be in Word or plain text format; PDFs will NOT work.
- ❖ Cutting and pasting text from Word, Word table, Excel, and .gif image documents, and from emails, should work from any browser if you use “Cntrl-C” and “Cntrl-V”.
- ❖ All text boxes are editable using the standard Word toolbar provided. There are some editing limitations with the “Paste from Word” and “Paste as Plain Text” icons, which work when applied to text already entered in the box.

Approvals and Rejections

- ❖ In all cases, if a proposal is approved and the approver clicks the “Submit” button, the proposal automatically moves to the next approver, who is sent an email notification.
- ❖ If a proposal is rejected by a department chair, it returns to the original proponent.
- ❖ If a proposal is rejected by a college representative, it returns to the original proponent.
- ❖ If a proposal is rejected by any approver beyond the college representative level, the proposal returns to the college representative, who is responsible for consulting prior approvers if the proposal is substantially edited.

Approval Status and Timeline

- ❖ When the proposal reaches the College level, a read-only version will be posted by the College representative to the Committee Review Site, accessible to Academic Program Liaisons, and committee members throughout the process. The Committee Review Site is secured. (Academic Program Liaisons have username and login information.)

- ❖ The complete listing of active proposals is available on the Committee Review Site. Filters allow for targeted views by four-letter designator, college/school, Carolina Core Learning Outcome or Committee name.
- ❖ If a proposal sits in any approval queue for longer than 15 days, the College/School representative will receive an email notification identifying where the proposal is held.
