IV. Committee Reports (Consent Agendas)

This month we continue testing the use of consent agendas for reports coming forward from Board committees. I want to remind everyone, especially committee chairs who have reports coming forward today, we will treat all recommended approvals as a single motion from each committee.

If anyone objects to an individual item being included, please make a motion for the item to be pulled from the consent agenda so it may be discussed and voted on separately. We will address any item pulled from the consent agenda following acceptance of the committee’s larger motion. Should that happen, I will ask the chair of the committee to come forward to address questions related to any item pulled from a consent agenda.

V. Report of the USC Columbia Student Government President

Chairman von Lehe called on Mr. Wright who began his presentation discussing Student Government’s five goals, which formed the basis of its activities for the year: (1) Improving the quality of the student experience; (2) Promoting inclusion and equity; (3) Encouraging student involvement in the community; (4) Advocating for affordability, accessibility and transparency; and (5) Providing opportunities for student leadership development.

He quickly summarized accomplishments to date and activities planned for the spring semester. Highlights of his remarks included Stigma Free USC, which was a week dedicated to mental health... awareness, which included eating disorders, suicide, and other serious concerns students have. Student Government also worked with Athletics Director Ray Tanner and his staff to successfully introduce mobile student ticketing, as well as hydration stations at Williams-Brice Stadium.

Mr. Wright also underscored the importance of expanding the University Union. A student group was working on identifying what was needed regarding a student life perspective. He provided statistics showing USC third from the bottom among SEC institutions in terms of square feet per student found in student unions – Russell House is crowded, and lines are long. If the University wants to grow, it must continue to add space. USC is about 24 years behind the last SEC institution to add square footage in a university union.

As for goal two of promoting inclusion and equity, he said a survey showed Student Government more diverse than the Columbia campus. To further increase the diversity of groups on campus, Student Government is working with the Dr. John Dozier and the Office of Diversity and Inclusion to develop initiatives to implement in the spring.

As for encouraging student involvement in the community, he said The BIG Event saw more than 300 volunteers work at 30 sites to help improve the community. The goal for 2019 was to recruit more than 1,000 volunteers to work at 100 sites. In addition to The BIG Event, Student Government sponsored a Veterans Day 5K, which had over 200 runners raise $3,000 for Friends of Fisher House for veterans.

In addressing the goal of providing opportunities for student leadership development, Student Government recruited the largest and most diverse ever Freshman Council. It also sponsored the Student Body President Summit, hosting 23 study body presidents from across the state.

To address its final goal of promoting affordability, accessibility and transparency, Student Government re-launched Carolina Closet – a service providing students with business attire for interviews, allowing students to better represent themselves and the University. Student Government will pilot a new program in the spring, Swipe Out Hunger, in which students can donate unused meal swipes to students in need. The 400 swipes needed to initiate the pilot program were donated within 24 hours, he said.

In the area of academics, Mr. Wright said Student Government was continuing to work with Provost Joan Gabel and University Libraries on OERs (Open Educational Resources), which are free textbooks for students. This effort has saved students over $400,000 since 2015 and the savings are expected to be even higher once the 2018 figures are finalized. Transparency in academic fees through creation of more understandable student bills is another issue Student Government has been working on with the provost, deans and the Division of Information Technology, he said.
Finally, he shared a quick success story about Student Government’s recognition at the 2018 SEC Exchange, where USC Columbia’s Student Government received two of seven awards presented. One award recognized Stigma Free USC as the “Initiative of the Year” and the second recognized USC’s Sustainability Fund as the “New Initiative of the Year.”

In response to how to get clothing to Carolina Closet, Mr. Wright instructed Trustees to bring clothing to the Student Government Office in Russell House or to the Blatt PE Center.

Chairman von Lehe thanked Mr. Wright for his report, which he received as information.

VI. Report of the President

Chairman von Lehe called on President Pastides who opened his remarks commenting on Monday’s systemwide commencement ceremonies at which 2500 students received degrees, 1500 of whom participated. Earlier in the day on Monday, he said, 200 doctoral degrees were awarded – the largest number ever awarded by the University.

Sadly, President Pastides noted the passing of Robert C. “Bob” McNair in November – “one of our own,” he said, adding that the McNair family wanted Dr. Pastides to assure the Board Mr. McNair deeply loved the University of South Carolina. “I assured them that their legacy would continue to be felt at the University.”

President Pastides mentioned efforts on the Higher Education Opportunity Act (HEOA), which he said was pre-filed in the Senate with a growing list of bi-partisan sponsors, including publication of an op-ed piece he authored that ran December 9, 2018, in the Spartanburg Herald. “We are cautiously hopeful,” he said. The University has appealed to the state for $11.3 million of new, recurring funding – the amount it would take to comply with the HEOA.

On Athletics, President Pastides cited the announcement of the new LED video display for Founders Park, which at 1450 square feet will be one of the 10 largest in college baseball. It will be ready for the season opener against Liberty University on February 15, 2019.

He concluded his report announcing the following campus achievements: Capstone was lit in November recognizing for the third straight year, the No. 1 in the world ranking for the University’s Sports Sciences; Dr. Prakash Nagarkatti was elected a fellow of the National Academy of Inventors; and Dr. Donna Chen in Chemistry was announced as American Association for the Advancement of Science (AAAS) Fellow, making her the University’s 44th AAAS Fellow. At the annual meeting of the SACS Commission on Colleges, USC Aiken Chancellor Sandra Jordan was awarded the organization’s highest honor, the James T. Rogers Distinguished Leadership Award.
VII. Other Matters

Chairman von Lehe called on Vice Chairman Mobley who offered a brief update on the Presidential Search, noting a website would be launched in the next few weeks that would provide progress and information on the search. The website also may be used for a survey on preferred presidential characteristics.

Chairman von Lehe said that before adjourning, he wanted to recognize two Trustees who would be leaving Board service – Governor’s Designee Mark W. Buyck Jr. and Governor’s Appointee Thomas C. Cofield – and offered each an opportunity to speak.

Mr. Cofield said he appreciated the kind comments over the past several days. He continued:

This has been a great honor for me. I’ve thoroughly enjoyed it. Governor Haley gave me a great honor when she nominated me for this position. The great thing for Janet and me has been that we have served with so many great people. I had no inkling that USC has such great leaders, had such great people working in the background; it has so impressed us.

We’ve served during a time where – I don’t want to call them USC’s glory years – but we’ve had just grand achievements across the board, including academics, athletics, and growth in research. Certainly, a lot of that is on your shoulders. If we had a player coach like Bill Russell used to be for the Boston Celtics, we would say that our player coach has really been President Harris Pastides. What a great leader he has been for these glory years.

It has been a great honor to serve with all of you and with President Pastides.

This being his last board meeting, Mr. Buyck said he wanted to make a few reflections because everyone on the Board felt like a part of his family. He continued:

In 1986, when Carol Campbell called me, he said “Mark, you’re my first appointment and I’m appointing you to the Board of Trustees.” I have said often that working with you and for this institution has really fed my soul. During these last 30 years, probably not a day went by that I didn’t think about something dealing with Carolina.

I’ve served with five presidents, from Jim Holderman to Harris Pastides, and each one brought a great deal to the University. Harris has probably brought the most; he’s the most approachable president during the time I’ve been here. We appreciate everything he has done and will continue to do.

I have jotted down a dozen challenges. I hope this Board will:

1. Continue to fund academic cathedrals very generously.
2. Continue to pursue admission to the AAU.
3. Do not let the freshmen enrollment drop below 6,000 and increase it as our facilities come online to handle more students.
4. Begin the first phase of our Campus Village up where the Bates dormitories are now.

5. Encourage the University Development Foundation to acquire that track of land behind Gamecock Park down to the river.

6. Do not tear down Carolina Coliseum or the Byrnes Building.

7. The most neglected part of our campus is at the corner of Sumter and Pendleton Streets where the World War I Memorial sits. This is a magnificent architectural building and our University Architect Derek Gruner has plans to improve the building and the grounds that will honor all veterans of all foreign wars who have been students at the University.

8. We should designate new areas for the Greek Village because more fraternities and sororities want to locate there.

9. Focus on the realignment and development of South Main Street. This will be a big, important addition.

10. Encourage the speedy completion of the former Law School renovation.

11. Emphasize the healthy relationship between the regional campuses and the Columbia campus to the new president.

12. Humor and indulge Marco (he laughingly kidded Faculty Senate Chair Marco Valtorta, before adding) the twelfth challenge is beat Clemson.

Farewell remarks by both Trustees were applauded and Chairman von Lehe said the comments would be included in the minutes.

VIII. Adjournment

When there were no other matters to come before the Board, Chairman von Lehe declared the meeting adjourned at 1:40 p.m.

Respectfully submitted,

J. Cantey Heath, Jr.
Secretary
