8. ARNOLD SCHOOL OF PUBLIC HEALTH

Change to Major/Degree Program – B.S. in Public Health

Existing Program Introduction

The Arnold School of Public Health offers both the Bachelor of Arts (B.A.) degree and the Bachelor of Science (B.S.) degree with a major in public health. These degrees are designed to provide a broad liberal undergraduate education that includes a general understanding of public health, instills a strong sense of values, and provides the capacity to adapt acquired knowledge and abilities to address new challenges. These programs provide the student with two paths to a broad pre-professional education. In addition to general education and public health-related coursework, the B.A. curriculum will prepare undergraduate students through rigorous study of the social and behavioral sciences for entry into social science-based graduate programs and schools of law. Students in the B.S. major will receive the same general and public health core courses and, will take courses in the natural sciences leading potentially to graduate work in the public health laboratory sciences or study in the field of medicine.

Students majoring in Public Health may pursue minors offered by other units. In completing a minor, students may apply advisor-approved courses to both the minor and cognate, selective, or elective requirements. Courses in the college core requirements beyond the Carolina Core minimum requirements may also be used in the minor.

NEW:

"Each student must complete a cognate of 12 credit hours of natural and physical sciences. The cognate is intended to support the course work in the major. Depending on student interests, cognate courses may be selected from one or several units. A cognate differs from a minor in that the courses must be 300 level or above and may be distributed over more than one subject area. Courses applied toward minimum Carolina Core requirements cannot be counted toward either cognate. All cognate courses must be approved by the student’s academic advisor. A minimum grade of C in these courses is required.

Change to Major/Degree Program – B.A. in Public Health

Existing Program Introduction:

The Arnold School of Public Health offers both the Bachelor of Arts (B.A.) degree and the Bachelor of Science (B.S.) degree with a major in public health. These degrees are designed to provide a broad liberal undergraduate education that includes a general understanding of public health, instills a strong sense of values, and provides the capacity to adapt acquired knowledge and abilities to address new challenges. These programs provide the student with two paths to a broad pre-professional education. In addition to general education and public health-related coursework, the B.A. curriculum will prepare undergraduate students through rigorous study of the social and behavioral sciences for entry into social science-based graduate programs and schools of law. Students in the B.S. major will receive the same general and public health core courses and will take courses in the natural sciences leading potentially to graduate work in the public health laboratory sciences or study in the field of medicine.

Existing College/School Gen Ed or Departmental Requirements:

2. Arnold School College Core Requirements

The following courses may fulfill some of the Carolina Core requirements (or some minors) and must be completed for a BA degree from the Arnold School of Public Health. A minimum grade of C in these courses is required. Potential overlap with the Carolina Core courses (pending approval of Carolina Core designation) is indicated in parentheses.
