

University of South Carolina Lancaster

Native American Studies Center

Lunch and Learn Series

FRIDAY
DECEMBER
20

All are invited to attend these free monthly public lectures which cover topics related to local culture and regional history. Lectures begin at noon and finish by 1:00.

Participants are invited to bring a bag lunch.

Location:

Native American
Studies Center

119 South Main
Street, Lancaster, SC

“The American Revolution: A British Perspective”

By Dr. Ron Cox

The study of history – and our understanding of historical events – is shaped by perspective. In this presentation, I will look at the background causes, as well as major occurrences, of the American Revolution – things that “every school child knows” in the United States – but will examine them from the point of view of the Mother Country, our “English brethren” across the Atlantic, to demonstrate how different people (or groups of people) often view the very same things in very different ways.

Please direct any questions or comments regarding the series to Brent Burgin at 803-313-7063 or wbburgin@sc.edu. Mr. Burgin welcomes suggestions and ideas for future talks and speakers.

Native American Studies Center