Islamic World Studies Program Fellowship	Yes	April 4, 2016	Lys Duffey	803.777.0437	Duffeya@mailbox.sc.edu

Purpose: The Islamic World Studies Program (IWSP) at the University of South Carolina is pleased to offer a fellowship to support graduate research focused on the Islamic World. We take a broad view of the Islamic World and will consider applications relating to Muslim-majority contexts (e.g. the MENA region, Indonesia, Central Asia) or to Muslim communities in Muslim-minority contexts (e.g. Europe, India). We will also consider applications relating to Islamic religious and legal issues that may be transnational in scope.

Eligibility: All currently enrolled graduate students at the master's or doctoral level. Students are eligible to apply for this award even if they have applied for another Walker Institute graduate award.

Li-Ching Graduate Award	Yes	March 1, 2016	Lys Duffey	803.777.0437	duffeya@mailbox.sc.edu

Purpose and Award Information: The Center for Asian Studies and Walker Institute are please to offer the Li-Ching Graduate Fellowship in the amount of $2500, renewable for two additional year, to incoming Ph.D. students who show exceptional promise in Asian Studies. One fellowship will be awarded per academic year. This fellowship is made possible by the Li-Ching Fellowship Fund, which was established in 1994 through a generous donation from Li-Ching Cultural and Educational Foundation.

Eligibility: Must have applied to a doctoral program and met all admission requirements. Must have outstanding undergraduate or master's level record. Primary area of interest must be in the Asian Studies. In accordance with the bequest, preference will be given to students with research interests in the Greater China region. Nominations of students in all areas of Asian Studies will be considered.

Program Guidelines: The award amount for the Li-Ching Graduate Fellowship is $2500 per year, renewable for 2 subsequent years for doctoral students, contingent upon adequate progress toward the degree and available funding. Funds may be applied to tuition, fees or student stipends. For students receiving other financial aid awards such as teaching or research assistantships, the Li-Ching Graduate Fellowship must be used to increase the total amount of their stipend by $2500 above the level offered by standard funding packages in the student's home program or department.
