POLICY STATEMENT

This document sets forth the University of South Carolina policy on disciplinary action and termination for cause. It is intended to assist supervisors in taking consistent disciplinary action for similar instances of employee misconduct or inappropriate workplace behavior, pursuant to regulations of the Division of State Human Resources. This policy applies to classified and unclassified nonacademic employees who have completed their probationary period.

A. University employees are expected to perform their work efficiently and effectively and to be mindful of the public's expectations of the university and its employees. Supervisors are expected to set an example by their own conduct, attitude, and work habits.

B. Employee Relations Assistance

- 1. Supervisors and employees are encouraged to seek resolution of workplace disputes through their supervisory line of authority first; however, if that option is not realistic given the elements of the dispute, both supervisors and employees are encouraged to contact an employee relations representative in the USC Division of Human Resources or their campus Employee Relations Officer for assistance with employee relations matters.
- 2. Employees who seek employee relations assistance from the Division of Human Resources or campus Employee Relations Officer will be given reasonable time away from their jobs for that purpose.
- 3. Employees and supervisors may not be forbidden or discouraged from contacting Human Resources, nor may any retaliatory action be taken against any employee or supervisor for that reason.

C. Disciplinary Action

- 1. Disciplinary action should be conducted by progressive and constructive measures for the correction of employee misconduct or inappropriate workplace behavior, and prior to a request for termination.
- 2. Whenever practical, coaching and counseling should precede any disciplinary action.
- 3. For just cause any classified or unclassified non-academic employee may be counseled,

- warned, reprimanded, suspended, demoted or terminated whenever such action is considered necessary by the authorized supervisor, department chair, or higher level administrative official within the employee's line of supervision.
- 4. Employees who have completed their probationary period, but who have engaged in misconduct or inappropriate workplace behavior may be given the opportunity to improve before being terminated, depending on the level of the offense.
- 5. The circumstances surrounding the misconduct or inappropriate workplace behavior will normally suggest what disciplinary action should be taken. Circumstances to be considered include the severity of the misconduct or behavior, the number of times it has occurred, and any previous counseling or disciplinary actions taken.
- 6. Any disciplinary action beyond a written reprimand should include the following steps:
  - a. The supervisor presents all facts surrounding the incident(s) to the manager, or in cases where the manager is initiating the action, the facts must be presented to the head of the division, department, or campus with a recommendation for discipline.
  - b. If the manager, head of the division, department, or campus agrees with the recommendation, the matter is discussed with the Division of Human Resources Employee Relations Office.
  - c. Employee Relations will provide feedback, as necessary, and present the case and recommendations to the Vice President for Human Resources and General Counsel.
- 7. Disciplinary actions should be signed and dated by the employee and supervisor. The employee's signature on such documents denotes only receipt of the action and does not necessarily imply agreement with its contents. If the employee refuses to sign the disciplinary action, a notation of this will be made on the document. If possible, a witness should sign to acknowledge that the employee received the information, but refused to sign the documentation.
- 8. Any disciplinary or performance-based action that may be grieved through University Grievance Policy HR 1.42, or through the State Employee Grievance Procedure Act, must be reviewed and approved by the Vice President for Human Resources or the Vice President's designee prior to the action being taken, unless the seriousness of the violation or deficiency calls for immediate action. In all cases of immediate action, consultation with USC's Division of Human Resources must take place as soon as practicable.
- D. Types of Progressive Disciplinary Action

1. Counseling or Oral Warning

- a. An oral warning or counseling by the supervisor is normally sufficient for the first occurrence of a minor offense.
- b. Counseling and oral warning may not be grieved through the university grievance procedure.

2. Written Reprimand

- a. If a repetition of a first offense occurs, or if a more serious problem occurs, a written reprimand should be given to the employee.
- b. Written reprimands may not be grieved through the university grievance procedure.

3. Suspension

- a. If repetition of an offense occurs for which a written reprimand has been given, or if misconduct or inappropriate workplace behavior occurs that is serious but for which termination is not appropriate, the employee may be suspended.
- b. Disciplinary suspension is without pay.
- c. If an employee has been charged with a crime for which there is probable cause for arrest or which raises a reasonable concern or belief by the Vice President for Human Resources or the Vice President's designee, that the presence of the employee on the job would or could be harmful to the employee, other employees, students, or other members of the university community, or that the employee would be unable to properly perform the duties of his or her position, the employee may be suspended pending the outcome of the criminal charge and/or a thorough review by the university. In the event no wrongdoing by the employee is established, the employee may be entitled to back pay.
- d. Suspension may be grieved through the university grievance procedure. As stated above, any disciplinary or performance-based action that may be grieved must be reviewed by the Vice President for Human Resources or the Vice President's designee prior to the action being taken unless the seriousness of the violation or deficiency calls for immediate action.

4. Demotion

- a. An employee may be demoted when circumstances warrant removal from a specific position, but the offense does not rise to the level of termination.
- b. Serious misconduct or inappropriate workplace behavior may be cause for demotion without prior disciplinary steps having been taken.

c. A demotion may be grieved through the university grievance procedure. As stated above, any disciplinary or performance-based action that may be grieved must be reviewed by the Vice President for Human Resources or the Vice President's designee prior to the action being taken unless the seriousness of the violation or deficiency calls for immediate action.

5. Termination

- a. An employee may be terminated due to the frequency or nature of his or her misconduct or inappropriate workplace behavior.
- b. Serious misconduct or inappropriate workplace behavior may be cause for termination without prior disciplinary steps having been taken.
- c. Termination may be grieved through the university grievance procedure. As stated above, any disciplinary or performance based action that may be grieved must be reviewed by the Vice President for Human Resources or the Vice President's designee prior to the action being taken unless the seriousness of the violation or deficiency calls for immediate action.

B. Unauthorized Use or Misappropriation of University Equipment or Property

In addition to normal disciplinary procedures, any case of theft or unauthorized use of university equipment or property, or other misappropriation of university assets, including but not limited to cash, equipment, or supplies, will be evaluated for possible criminal prosecution by the Divisions of Human Resources, Law Enforcement and Safety, and the Office of the General Counsel.

C. Workplace Violence

If an employee engages in any violence in the workplace, or threatens violence in the workplace, their employment may be terminated immediately for cause. Violent acts include but are not limited to:

- 1. The use of physical force in order to harm;
- 2. A communicated intent of threat to inflict harm or loss on another or on another's property;
- 3. Harassment including, but not limited to, substantial and unreasonable words, gestures, or actions that are intended to frighten, alarm, or abuse another person or that would cause a reasonable person mental or emotional distress;
- 4. Intentional damage to property owned by the state, employees, visitors, or vendors; and
- 5. Domestic violence including, but not limited to, physical harm, injury, or an offer or an attempt to cause physical harm or injury to a household member.

PROCEDURES

The chart of Causes for Disciplinary Action and Recommended Consequences (Appendix A) contains the recommended uniform consequences for examples of misconduct and inappropriate workplace behavior that may require disciplinary action. The chart is to be used as a guide to ensure that all supervisors are being consistent in taking disciplinary action against employees involved in similar situations. It is not inclusive of all misconduct or inappropriate workplace behavior or resulting consequences.

At the occurrence of any of the listed examples of misconduct or inappropriate workplace behavior, or any that are not listed, the appropriate discipline will be determined after the circumstances of the matter are considered.

A. Counseling or Oral Warning

- 1. The supervisor should speak privately with the employee to correct minor deficiencies in conduct or inappropriate workplace behavior. The conversation should include:
  - a. a review of what is expected of the employee and why
  - b. an explanation to the employee of how expectations for appropriate conduct or behavior have not been met
  - c. an opportunity for the employee to explain his or her conduct or behavior
  - d. specific suggestions by the supervisor to the employee about how the employee's conduct or behavior may be improved.
- 2. A written record of a counseling or oral warning discussion should be made and retained by the supervisor. At this stage it is not necessary to send a copy to the employee's official personnel file maintained by the USC Division of Human Resources.

B. Written Reprimand

- 1. A written reprimand should be given to the employee if the seriousness of their misconduct or inappropriate workplace behavior calls for it, or if previous counseling discussions or oral warnings have not produced the desired results.
- 2. A written reprimand must be addressed to the employee, placed in the employee's official personnel file maintained by the USC Division of Human Resources and should include:
  - a. caption or heading that the document is a written reprimand;
  - b. description of the misconduct or inappropriate workplace behavior, or other action necessitating disciplinary action;

- c. a statement of how the misconduct or inappropriate workplace behavior may be corrected;
- d. the period of time the employee has to improve, if applicable; and,
- e. the potential consequences for repeated violations.
- 3. The employee may explain the misconduct or inappropriate workplace behavior in writing and append the explanation to the written reprimand.

C. Suspension

- 1. The employee should be suspended if repetition of the misconduct or inappropriate workplace behavior occurs for which a written reprimand has been given, or if a different instance of misconduct or inappropriate workplace behavior occurs that is serious but for which termination is not appropriate.
- 2. Before an employee is suspended, the manager or head of the division, department, or campus must give authorization for the action as stated in the Policy Statement unless the seriousness of the misconduct or behavior calls for immediate action. Disciplinary suspension is without pay.
- 3. Suspension without pay may be grieved through the university grievance procedure; therefore, as stated in the Policy Statement, the suspension must be reviewed by the Vice President for Human Resources or the Vice President's designee prior to the action being taken unless the seriousness of the violation or deficiency calls for immediate action.
- 4. The notice of suspension must be addressed to the employee, placed in the employee's official personnel file maintained by the USC Division of Human Resources, and should include:
  - a. a caption or heading that the document is a notice of suspension without pay;
  - b. the specific dates of the suspension;
  - c. a description of the misconduct, inappropriate workplace behavior, or other action necessitating suspension;
  - d. a listing of any previous disciplinary actions, if applicable;
  - e. corrective action the employee must take;
  - f. the possibility of termination in the case of a subsequent occurrence, or if the employee is

- found guilty of a felony, or if there is other evidence of serious wrongdoing;
- g. notice of the employee's right to grieve the suspension through the University's grievance procedure; and,
- h. a copy of the University's grievance policy and procedure. (HR 1.42 Grievance)
- 5. The employee may explain the misconduct or behavioral problem in writing and append the explanation to the notice of suspension.
- 6. If an employee has been charged with a crime for which there is probable cause for arrest or which raises a reasonable concern or belief by the Vice President for Human Resources or the Vice President's designee, that the presence of the employee on the job would or could be harmful to the employee, other employees, students, or other members of the University community, or that the employee would be unable to properly perform the duties of his or her position, the employee may be suspended without pay pending the outcome of the criminal charge and/or a thorough review by the University. In the event no wrongdoing by the employee is established, the employee may be entitled to back pay.

D. Demotion

- 1. An employee may be demoted when circumstances warrant removal from a specific position, but the offense does not rise to the level of termination.
- 2. Demotions may be grieved through the university grievance procedure; therefore, the demotion must be reviewed by the Vice President for Human Resources or the Vice President's designee prior to the action being taken.
- 3. The notice of demotion must be addressed to the employee, signed by the department chair or the department chair's designee, placed in the employee's official personnel files maintained by the USC Division of Human Resources, and should include:
  - a. caption or heading that the document is a notice of demotion;
  - b. a description of the misconduct, inappropriate workplace behavior, or other action necessitating demotion;
  - c. a description of previous disciplinary actions, if applicable;
  - d. include the new job title, job classification, salary, and effective date of action;
  - e. notice of the right to grieve the demotion through the university grievance procedure; and
  - f. a copy of the University's grievance policy and procedure. (HR 1.42 Grievance)

E. Termination

- 1. An employee who has been given the opportunity to improve deficiencies in conduct or inappropriate workplace behavior in accordance with this policy and whose misconduct or inappropriate behavior continues will be terminated. Serious offenses may be cause for immediate termination without prior opportunity to improve.
- 2. Terminations may be grieved through the university grievance procedure; therefore, the termination must be reviewed by the Vice President for Human Resources or the Vice President's designee prior to the action being taken unless the seriousness of the violation or deficiency calls for immediate action.
- 3. The notice of termination must be addressed to the employee, signed by the department chair or the department chair's designee, placed in the employee's official personnel files maintained by the USC Division of Human Resources, and should include:
  - a. caption or heading that the document is a notice of termination;
  - b. a description of the misconduct, inappropriate workplace behavior, or other action necessitating termination;
  - c. a description of previous disciplinary actions, if applicable;
  - d. notice of the right to grieve the termination through the university grievance procedure; and
  - e. a copy of the University's grievance policy and procedure. (HR 1.42 Grievance)

At the occurrence of any of the listed offenses, or any that are not listed, the appropriate discipline shall be determined after the particular circumstances of the case have been carefully considered. The state and federal laws referenced above are not all-inclusive in administering discipline.
