The following Questions were received from Vendor A

Question # 1

Are the Certifications required (R2, E-Steward, etc)?

Answer

Yes.

Question #2

What models or type of equipment are normally disposed of?

Answer

E-scrap: CPU's, Monitors (crt and flat panel), TV's, Printers, Projectors, copiers, keyboards, mice, batteries, and miscellaneous small electronics. (See attachment).

Questions #3

What are the upcoming expected quantities each type or model?

Answer

We have no way of knowing what the quantities will be. We palletize the items as they come in. Once 24 pallets have been filled, the contractor will be contacted for a pick up.

Question #4

What was the last awarded bid amount?

Answer

$.05 per pound

The following Questions were received from Vendor B

Question #1

On page 16 D. Certifications. Do vendors need to have all 3 certifications? E-Stewart and R2 are basically the same certification by two different companies?

Answer

It is strongly preferred that the contractor possess all 3 certifications; however either E-Steward or R2 along with ISO 14001 will suffice.

Question #2

Also I know the University has many locations. Do we need to pick up at all of them and will they all have 24 pallets before they call for a pick up?

Answer

Please see Page one of amendment – Change to Section III. Scope of Work/Specifications. The regional pick-ups will be minimal, no more than 10 pallets at a time.

The following Questions were received from Vendor C

Question #1

Who was the previous contractor?

Answer

Diversified Recycling, LLC

Question #2

What was the previous pricing structure?

Answer

$.05 per pound.

Question #3

Why is the contract being put out for proposals?

Answer

Previous contractor was unable to fulfill the contractual requirements of the solicitation.

Question #4

What is the typical load breakdown in regards to quantities and types of materials?

Answer

See attachments.

Question #5

Are you able to provide a few bill of ladings from previous loads?

Answer: See attachment

Question #6

Are both E-Stewards and R2 certifications required or does either or work? They achieve the same goal, which is promoting responsible recycling.

Answer

It is strongly preferred that the contractor possess all 3 certifications; however either E-Steward or R2 along with ISO 14001 will suffice.

The following Question were received from Vendor D

Question: Do you have any history on what equipment, weight, model makes up the 24 pallets of e-waste you will be producing each month? Is it functioning equipment?

Answer: See attachment. No, this is not functioning equipment.
