

ONLINE LEARNING

Instructional Methods

100% WEB ASYNCHRONOUS

Course that is taught 100% online in which students complete activities and assignments on their own time to meet course deadlines.

Example:

All course materials are provided online and students follow a course schedule with assignments that must be completed by an established due date.

100% WEB SYNCHRONOUS

Course that is taught 100% online in which students are required to participate in online meetings/lectures at specific days and times.

Example:

Course meets online on Tuesday/Thursday.

100% WEB MIX ASYNC & SYNC

Course that is taught 100% online in which students are required to participate in online meetings/lectures at specific days/times and also complete activities & assignments on their own time to meet course deadlines.

Example:

Course meets online on Monday and students have additional online activities/assignments to complete on their own time by a specific due date.

BLENDED 50% OR MORE WEB

Course that is taught both face-to-face and online with 50% or more of the course offered online.

Example:

Course meets in-person on Monday and either:

- Most activities/assignments are completed asynchronous online by students on their own time by a specific due date; or
- The course meets online with synchronous instruction on Wednesday/Friday.

BLENDED/HYBRID UP TO 49% WEB

Course that is taught both face-to-face and online with 49% or less of the course offered online.

Example:

Course meets in-person on Mon/Wed and either:

- Meets online on Friday with synchronous instruction; or
- Activities/assignments are completed asynchronously online by students in lieu of a Friday meeting.

FLEXIBLE FACE-TO-FACE OR ONLINE

Course that is taught in a traditional face-to-face classroom setting but also livestreamed online and recorded so students have the flexibility to choose the modality for any class sessions (HyFlex Model).

Example:

Course meets in-person on M/W/F in a classroom on campus that is livestreamed online and recorded. On any given day, student may choose to attend class sessions in-person, synchronously online (via livestream), or asynchronously online (via course recordings.)