Academic Appointments

University of South Carolina – Dept. of Languages, Literatures & Cultures
Associate Professor of Hispanic Linguistics, SLA and Pedagogy	2014-present
Assistant Professor of Hispanic Linguistics, SLA and Pedagogy	2008-2014

Education

Ph.D. Hispanic Linguistics – Second Language Acquisition, Indiana University	2008
M.A.T. Spanish, Marquette University (Secondary Education Licensure)	2003
B.A. International Relations, University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee	1996

Research Interests

Advanced interlanguage development; second language identity construction; cognitive processing strategies; explicit knowledge; rule formation; information structure; online processing in deductive and inductive instructional contexts

Teaching Interests

Second language acquisition; Hispanic linguistics (Spanish phonetics, morphosyntax); intercultural communication; sociopragmatics; foreign language pedagogy; Spanish language

Honors & Funding (selected)

- 2021 (fall) – USC – CAS Dean’s Initiative Grant, Manuscript Completion ($3,000)
- 2021 (spring) - University of South Carolina Provost’s Office, SPARC Grant Program, ($4,250), (grant for PhD student, Lesley Smith)
- 2018/19 Academic Year - University of South Carolina Provost’s Office, Pedagogy Grant Program ($19,800),
- 2018 (summer) - University of South Carolina College of Arts and Science Research Grant ($5,000)
- 2018 (summer) - University of South Carolina College of Arts and Sciences Travel Grant ($3,000)
- 2017 - University of South Carolina Garnet Apple award for innovation and excellence in teaching
- 2015 (spring) - University of South Carolina Provost’s Office, Magellan Scholar Grant Program ($3,000)
- 2015 (spring) - University of South Carolina Provost’s Office, Distributed Learning Grant Program ($8,000)
- 2014 (fall) - University of South Carolina, Magellan Scholar Grant Program ($1,000)
- 2013 (spring) - University of South Carolina, Languages, Literatures, & Cultures Course Reduction Grant recipient ($5,000 value)

Publications

Consistent with the American Psychological Association's (APA's) Ethical Principles and Code of Conduct (2016; Standard 8.12), authorship credits on the following publications indicate that I performed "substantial" contributions to each one. For each multi-authored publication based on empirical work, these contributions took the form of (A) obtaining funding for the project, (B) conceptualization of the work, (C) substantial original writing, (D) statistical and/or methodological design, (E) statistical analyses, (F) data collection, and/or (G) editing of the work. For publications listed below, these contributions are noted with the corresponding letters (above). Also consistent with APA Ethical Standard 8.12b, the order of authorship on the publications listed reflects the relative scientific or professional contributions of the individuals involved.

Teaching Experience

University of South Carolina, Fall 2008 - present

Second Language Identity: Undergraduate-level course examining intercultural communication, intersubjectivity and identity co-construction, and sophisticated language use in context.

Introduction to Hispanic Linguistics: Undergraduate / graduate-level course introducing students to articulatory phonetics, morphology, syntax, and historical linguistics in applied contexts.

Foreign Language Pedagogy and Communicative Teaching Methods: Graduate-level course designed to introduce graduate teaching assistants to the foundations of the communicative approach to foreign-language teaching and assessment.

Principles of Second Language Acquisition and Foreign Language Learning: Graduate-level seminar designed to develop empirical research in second language acquisition and analyze the potential and limitations of foreign language pedagogy in second language development.

Bilingualism and Language Learning: Graduate-level seminar providing a sociocultural analysis of contact-induced language change, bilingualism, and language policy/planning.

Foreign Language Pedagogy: Undergraduate / graduate-level professional licensure course covering the secondary-education pedagogical practices, methods, and theory of the teaching of foreign languages, per the standards of NCATE.

Spanish Oral Proficiency and the OPI: Undergraduate-level course introducing teacher certification students to the ACTFL oral proficiency interview and its evaluation criteria and strategies for developing metacognitive awareness of oral production.

Structure of Modern Spanish: Undergraduate / graduate-level course providing an in-depth analysis of Spanish syntax and morphology.

Spanish Phonetics and Pronunciation: Upper-division undergraduate course introducing students to articulatory phonetics, dialectology, and phonetic transcription.

Spanish Conversation: Advanced-level undergraduate course fostering the development and practice of advanced-level oral proficiency.

Spanish Composition: Advanced-level undergraduate course fostering the development and practice of writing and composition in academic genres.

Advanced Spanish Grammar: Undergraduate course aimed at in-depth analysis of complex, late-acquired linguistic structure.

Spanish: “Intermediate Spanish.” Intermediate-level Spanish language course designed to meet communication goals based on the standards of the American Council on the Teaching of Foreign Languages (ACTFL).

Spanish: “Introductory/Basic-Level Spanish” (Semesters 1-4). Beginning/intermediate-level courses. Designed to meet communication goals based on the standards of the American Council on the Teaching of Foreign Languages (ACTFL). Content-based instruction.

Indiana University, Fall 2003-Spring 2008

Readings Course: “Spanish for Graduate Students.” Graduate course focusing on reading and translating Spanish into English, with special emphasis given to Spanish morphology.

Hispanic Linguistics: “Introduction to Hispanic Linguistics.” Upper-division course taught in Spanish introducing students to the theoretical foundations of Hispanic linguistics, covering phonology, phonetics, morphology, syntax, semantics, and pragmatics.

Spanish Conversation: “Conversation and Diction.” Upper-division course taught in Spanish, with specific emphasis being placed on prescriptive pronunciation and diction.

Grammar: “Advanced Spanish Grammar.” Upper-division course taught in Spanish with a focus on the morphosyntax of the Spanish language.

Culture: “Introduction to Hispanic Culture.” Upper-division course providing an intensive introduction to Hispanic culture through reading, writing, conversation, and listening comprehension of audio-visual materials, requiring a critical analysis of culture.

Spanish: “Introductory/Basic-Level Spanish” (Semesters 1-4). Beginning/intermediate-level courses. Designed to meet communication goals based on the standards of the American Council on the Teaching of Foreign Languages (ACTFL). Content-based instruction.

Marquette University, Fall 2000-Spring 2003

Spanish: “Introductory/Basic-Level Spanish” (Semesters 1-3). Beginning/intermediate-level courses. Designed to meet communication goals based on the standards of ACTFL. Content-based instruction.
