Prepared by University of South Carolina

Office of Equal Opportunity Programs

Revised 9/17/2019

The Office of Equal Opportunity Programs (EOP) is charged with ensuring the University of South Carolina (USC) complies with state and federal laws and regulations which prohibit unlawful discrimination and harassment, with the goal of ensuring persons protected by such laws and regulations, including applicants for employment, employees, and prospective and enrolled students, are protected against unlawful discrimination and harassment.

USC does not discriminate in educational or employment opportunities based on race, color, religion, national origin, sex, sexual orientation, gender, age, disability, veteran status, genetics, pregnancy, childbirth or related medical conditions. *

The affirmative action program at USC is administered by the Office of Equal Opportunity Programs. Affirmative action consists of efforts to identify and eliminate barriers at USC to equal employment opportunity. USC takes positive steps to ensure that its policies and procedures provide employment opportunities for all qualified persons, including minorities, women, individuals with disabilities and protected veterans.

Members of the public may obtain information about USC job vacancies online at <https://uscjobs.sc.edu>. and may also be advertised in the local and national print and electronic media. An effort is made to acquire diverse representative applicant pools before searches for candidates are concluded.

The University of South Carolina Office of Equal Opportunity Programs is located at 1600 Hampton Street, Suite 805, Columbia, SC 29208 and may be reached at (803) 777-3854.

*This statement was revised in June 2018 to include "pregnancy, childbirth or related medical conditions".
