The Department of Mathematics at the University of South Carolina is inviting applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor position in number theory. All areas of number theory will be considered.

The successful candidate is expected to teach on all levels, maintain an outstanding research program, compete for external funding, and participate in the department's service and outreach efforts. Candidates must have a Ph.D. in Mathematics by the start date of employment, an outstanding research record, a commitment to effective teaching at the undergraduate and graduate levels, and a demonstrated potential for excellence in research, teaching, and service.

Applications must be submitted through both the University’s online employment system (USCJobs) at https://uscjobs.sc.edu/postings/129269 as well as via MathJobs at https://www.mathjobs.org/jobs/list/20717. A completed application should contain a cover letter, curriculum vitae, description of research plans, and statement of teaching philosophy. In addition, at least four letters of recommendation should be made available through MathJobs. One of the letters should appraise the candidate's teaching ability.

The beginning date for the position will be August 16, 2023. Application review will begin November 1, 2022 and continue until the position is filled. Please address inquiries to thorne@math.sc.edu.
