Co-Principal Investigator.

Adverse Police Interactions and Black Adolescent Mental Health

With the support of an SRCD Small Grant for Early Career Scholars, this online study will recruit 100 Black adolescents between the ages of 12-17 years who reside in the United States to investigate the trauma conferring impact of adverse police interactions on Black youth and the culturally relevant processes that may modulate how youth negotiate these adverse experiences.

- 2021-present Penn State Milton S. Hershey Medical Center
Principal Investigator. Primary Mentor: Brian Allen, PsyD, LP; Co-Mentors: Karen Bierman, PhD, LP; Jennie Noll, PhD; Vern Chinchilli, PhD
Beneficial or Fostering Future struggles (B.F.F.s)? Characterizing the Role of Friends in the Developmental Trajectory of Maltreated Adolescent
With the support of a K99/R00 Pathway to Independence Award from the Eunice Kennedy Shriver National Institute of Child Health and Human Development (NICHD), I am utilizing secondary data from two multi-wave prospective longitudinal studies to: (1) Identify how maltreated and non-maltreated adolescents' friendships differ and (2) Examine associations between the friendship experiences that differ and psychopathology/peer victimization.
- 2020-present Penn State Health Milton S. Hershey Medical Center
Principal Investigator. Mentor: Brian Allen, PsyD, LP
Investigating the Influence of Interpersonal Relationships on the Developmental Trajectory of Maltreated Children using Multiple Levels of Analysis
With the support of a Loan Repayment Program Award from NICHD, I am utilizing data from prospective longitudinal studies to: (1) Enhance understanding of the ways in which different interpersonal relationships confer risk for and/or offer protection from adverse outcomes for maltreated children and (2) Examine the relationships of biological indices of self-regulation to various outcomes among maltreated children.
- 2020-present Penn State Health Milton S. Hershey Medical Center
Principal Investigator. Mentor: Brian Allen, PsyD, LP
The Influence of Caregiver Trauma History on Mental Health and Treatment Outcomes for Maltreated Children Receiving Trauma-Focused Cognitive Behavioral Therapy (TF-CBT)
This research project uses archival data analysis to examine the influence of caregiver trauma history on their children's mental health symptomatology and treatment outcomes in a sample of maltreated children and their caregivers participating in Trauma-Focused Cognitive Behavioral Therapy (TF-CBT).
- 2019-present Penn State Health Milton S. Hershey Medical Center
Postdoctoral Fellow. Principal Investigator: Brian Allen, PsyD, LP
Pennsylvania Adoptees Longitudinal Study (R01HD097707)
This is an NICHD-funded R01 that will recruit approximately 300 children between the ages of 4 and 10 within the first year of adoption from the child welfare system and assess them longitudinally to identify factors in their environment that best predict improved developmental trajectories.
