

currently in Austin it's 2018 and here's what happened this school year...

The Astros defeated the Dodgers in Game Seven to win the 2017 World Series.

The average price for a gallon of gas was $2.30.

Bruno Mars won the Grammy Award for 2018 Album of the Year with 24K Magic.

The Eagles defeated the Patriots, 41-33 to win Super Bowl LII.

An estimated 20,000 activists joined #March4OurLives in downtown Austin on March 24.

Nineteen days of domestic terror caused three deaths in Austin bombing spree.

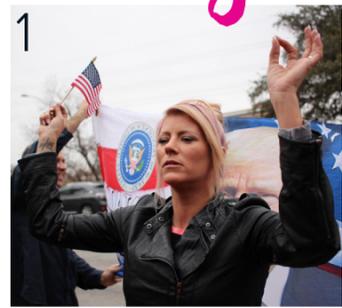

Hurricane Harvey hit the Texas coast and surrounding areas in August 2017.

72 percent of Austin voters approved AISD's $1.05 billion bond on Nov. 7.

Prince Harry of Wales got engaged to the American actress, Meghan Markle.

women's march 2.0

1. FIGHT FOR THE RIGHT: While thousands assembled downtown for the Impeachment Rally on Jan. 20, there was also a smaller group of Trump supporters who came downtown to stage a counter protest. Gina Williams was one of the counter protesters who came downtown. "We may not always agree politically, but we can find a middle ground," she said. "I think at the end of the day that's what's important. Austin is pretty amazing. I've met some really great people not just on our side of course but on both sides as well, and I hope that this is a step forward in the right direction," Williams said.
Photo by Madison Olsen.

2. HANDS UP IN PROTEST: On Jan. 20, a year after President Trump was inaugurated into the presidential office, thousands of people, men and women, gathered downtown to march dressed in pink.
Photo by Madison Olsen.

3. FOR THE BRAVE OF HEART: During the Women's March in January, girls of all ages went downtown to March. Parents and their children, including this little girl, came together to stand up for what they believe in.
Photo by Molly Odland.

4. WITH LIBERTY AND JUSTICE FOR ALL: During the Women's March, this unidentified woman stands with her hand over her heart and a flag in her hand reciting the Pledge of Allegiance.
Photo by Madison Olsen.

ONE YEAR LATER: During the Women's March downtown on Jan. 20, people of all ages and backgrounds joined together to march on the one-year anniversary of President Trump being inaugurated into the presidential office.
Photo by Madison Olsen.

#Parklandstrong

1. NOT JUST ANOTHER SERVICE PROJECT: NHS seniors Evalyn McCusker, Izzy Gillespie, and Cait Middleton make signs to send to Stoneman Douglas High School in Parkland, Fla., after the shooting there on Feb. 14. "We just wanted to show our support to the people affected by this tragedy in whatever way we could," Gillespie said.

2. PASSING ALONG OUR SUPPORT: Sophomore Aranza Sanchez signs one of the posters made by the photojournalism classes during passing period on Feb. 22. "I wanted them to know that they're not alone and that we are feeling their loss," Sanchez said. "Innocent lives were taken due to the lack of attention this subject gets from politicians, and it's about time our voices are heard, and action is taken."

3. POSTERS FOR PARKLAND: Sophomore photojournalism student Mia Terminella makes one of the posters to send to Stoneman Douglas High School during sixth period on Feb. 22. "We wanted to say that we will not forget what happened," Terminella said. "McCallum as a community gives our support to the students."
Photos by Dave Winter.

Trump travels to texas

1. PROTESTERS GREET THE PRESIDENT: On Aug. 29, President Trump visited Texas in the aftermath of Hurricane Harvey. When the President visited the Travis County Department of Public Safety, there were protesters, like this woman, waiting outside for him to arrive with posters and signs.
2. SUPPORTERS GREET THE PRESIDENT: There were more than just protesters waiting for President Trump's arrival; there were also Trump supporters waiting to cheer for him and show him their support. These two unidentified waited outside the DPS with a pro-Trump poster.
3. COMMANDER IN CHIEF AT THE HARVEY COMMAND CENTER: Another Trump supporter was interviewed by local TV stations about his support for Trump and how much he appreciated that Trump came to Texas to show his support for all the families affected in the aftermath of Hurricane Harvey.
Photos by Madison Olsen.