The Eastern States Section of the Combustion Institute (ESSCI) is pleased to provide financial travel support to students from ESSCI institutions who will be delivering oral presentations at the 2020 ESSCI Spring Technical Meeting to be held in Columbia, SC beginning March 8, 2020 and concluding March 11, 2020. The level of support is anticipated to be approximately $200 per award, but this could be changed depending on the number of applicants.

Qualified students must be a current degree candidate at a university from the ESSCI at the time of the conference, must be accompanied by a senior co-worker or advisor, who is a co-author on the presentation, at the meeting, and must be traveling from more than fifty miles away from the conference location. In addition, students must be delivering an oral presentation: students who are only co-authors on an oral presentation are not eligible for support.

To apply for ESSCI student travel support, please send the following information to Prof. Michael E. Mueller, Treasurer of the Eastern States Section of the Combustion Institute, via email (muellerm@princeton.edu) as soon as possible but no later than February 28, 2020 in order to determine the final budget:

- Student Name
- Name of Senior Co-Worker or Advisor in Attendance (must be co-author on presentation)
- Name of University
- Email Address
- Title of Paper
- Authors of Paper (Complete List)
- Abstract ID Number (e.g., 36TF-0001)

Reimbursements will be made by check at the conference, and further instructions will be communicated just ahead of that time.

Any questions regarding travel support should be directed to Prof. Michael E. Mueller.
