

Pharmacists for Healthier Lives □ While nearly half of South Carolina residents have at least one vaccination, only 38 percent have received their full vaccination. In an effort to help boost those numbers, the UofSC College of Pharmacy will take part in the Juneteenth Freedom Festival on Saturday, June 19 in Columbia. Read more...

From the Dean's Desk

You may have heard that I will be serving as interim provost for the university, as the search moves ahead for both our new president and provost. Julie Sease, an alumna of the College of Pharmacy and our senior associate dean, will fill the role of interim dean of the College. I have worked closely with Dr. Sease over the past two years, and I have full faith and confidence in her ability to lead our college. I know that she will have your support as well until my return. Exciting things are ahead!

Stephen J. Cutler | Dean, College of Pharmacy

COP focused on Diversity and Health Equity

The College of Pharmacy is devoted to providing an inclusive environment for all students, faculty, staff and alumni and supported several initiatives aimed toward that goal during the past year.
