

STUDENT NUTRITION GROUP FOOD DRIVE

The Student Nutrition Group is hosting a food drive with Harvest Hope Food Bank throughout the month of November.

HARVEST
HOPE

BACKGROUND

The Student Nutrition Group at UofSC is collecting non-perishable items for Harvest Hope. Harvest Hope is an organization that aims to eliminate hunger and food insecurity in South Carolina. They facilitate programs that provide food for South Carolina's most vulnerable citizens – children, seniors, and rural residents who don't have access to grocery stores.

WAYS TO DONATE

- Donate food items- drop off items to the box in the foyer of the Discovery Building or PHRC Building OR email sosng@mailbox.sc.edu to request items be picked up from a location of your choice.
- Our SNG will be in the Discovery foyer November 20th and 23rd from 2:00-4:00PM with treats/snacks, so stop by and bring your donated foods!
- Donate online - cash donations are accepted through the following website link: <https://www.harvesthope.org>
- Help with outreach, by telling your peers and colleagues about the food drive!

MORE INFORMATION

Volunteers are needed to help pick up donated goods. If you are interested in volunteering, please fill out the following form:

- tinyurl.com/SNGfooddrive

FOODS TO DONATE

- rice
- pasta
- beans
- canned fruits
- canned vegetables
- canned beans
- canned meals (like soup)
- macaroni and cheese
- peanut butter, jelly (no glass, please)
- cereal
- Ramen noodles
- snacks and more

UNIVERSITY OF SOUTH CAROLINA

STUDENT NUTRITION GROUP

Partners of the Nutrition Consortium
Arnold School of Public Health

